

ALLERGY

HOTEL DIEU

26.11.2006

The Hotel Dieu in Paris has been one of the first pediatric hospital in the world (see my photo of the hospital entrance). I recall from the detailed history of allergic diseases by Schadewaldt that at the beginning of the last century it was difficult to present the students a case of the Bostock hayfever.

The disease was so rare that it took more than one week to find a child with the typical symptoms. Yea, yea.

CC-BY-NC Science Surf accessed 11.01.2026 🔗