

JOKE, PHILOSOPHY

WER HEILT HAT RECHT

19.06.2007

This is a German quote - frequently used in the context of alternative medicine - "who heals is right".

The history of the quotation is unclear; maybe it is a modification of the Latin "extra ecclesiam salus non est" .

In today's English "the doctor's always right" (or "might is right"?)

Anyway it is utter nonsense as (1) a healer wants to be successful and not rightful (2) healing (at least on a few occasions) is no proof for the right treatment only for the good outcome.
