CHANGE LOCATION

31.01.2010

Here is another tech tip to overcome a frequent task – resetting printers and mailers when moving a Macbook around the world: Location X is a perfect solution with a built in auto-locate function (depending on airport network! which is superior to IP detection)

Unfortunately, smtp in settings in Thunderbird cannot be controlled (no applescript ... due to the rather poor port to OSX) but fortunately there is a plugin "smtp control".
