

PHILOSOPHY, SOFTWARE

RESPONSIBLE SHARING?

11.01.2017

Elsevier continues to dictate the rules. Here is their current scheme of responsible sharing. You probably need a lawyer to understand it.

Responsible sharing overview

	Sharing the DOI link	Sharing the full text (e.g., posting a PDF)
		Open Access label and license		All other publications (including those with Open Archive label + Elsevier user license)
		CC-BY license	CC-BY-NC-ND license	User who wants to share IS AFFILIATED with subscribed institution	User who wants to share IS AFFILIATED with subscribed corporate organization	User who wants to share is NOT AFFILIATED with subscribed institution or organization	User who accesses via pay-per-view services	Journal article authors
Private sharing (e.g., with individuals via email for their scholarly or research use)	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✗	✗	✓
Teaching, internal training, grant funding, and patent application purposes (including use in course packs and courseware programs)	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✗	✗	✓
Private workgroups on partner sites	✓	✓	✓	journals ✓ books ✗	✗	✗	✗	✓
Public posting on non-commercial platforms (e.g., institutional repositories)	✓	✓	✓	✗	✗	✗	✗	✗
Public posting on commercial platforms (e.g., www.researchgate.net , www.academia.edu)	✓	✓	✗	✗	✗	✗	✗	✗

27-Oct-17

Even more scientists are leaving Elsevier

CC-BY-NC Science Surf accessed 15.12.2025
