Nature is citing an in-depth analysis of policy documents in research integrity in Sci Eng Ethics which used co-word analysis. The result? There seems to be no joint language so far

'integrity' has a strong connection to 'policy' and 'institution' in the British, Dutch and Norwegian documents. However, it is has strong connection to 'society' in German policy documents and is connected to 'virtues' and 'institution' in Italian documents … Furthermore, the theme 'misconduct' co-occurs most frequently with the theme 'repression' in British documents, with 'institution' and 'science' in the German documents and—remarkably—with 'virtues' in Dutch texts.
