OVERLOADING REVIEWER

22.01.2021

There is an interesting paper at bioRxiv on the never ending stream of review requests

... overburdening of reviewers to be caused by (i) an increase in manuscript submissions; (ii) insufficient editorial triage; (iii) a lack of reviewing instructions; (iv) difficulties in recruiting reviewers; (v) inefficiencies in manuscript handling and (vi) a lack of institutionalisation of peer review.

What makes it even more worse, that with the limited capacity of pre-publication review also the capacity of post-publication review is dropping...

Want to be a predatory reviewer? Just click on "yes" at the Cureus website (but read up the gossip at researchgate first)
